

Julie Schallhorn, MD MS

Julie Schallhorn, MD MS, is Associate Professor of Ophthalmology and Rose B. Williams Endowed Chair in Corneal Research at the University of California, San Francisco in the Department of Ophthalmology and the Francis I. Proctor Foundation. She completed a residency in ophthalmology at University of California, San Francisco, and fellowships in Uveitis at the Proctor Foundation at the University of California, San Francisco and in Cornea and External Disease at the Casey Eye Institute in Portland, Oregon. She sits on the editorial board of the Journal of Refractive Surgery, and is the chair of the American Academy of Ophthalmology's Refractive Intervention Ophthalmic Technology Assessment committee. She currently serves as Associate Residency Program Director and Medical Director of the Refractive Surgery division at UCSF, and is actively involved in corneal and refractive surgery research and surgical education.