

Vaninder Dhillon, MD

Vaninder K Dhillon MD FACS is a dual fellowship trained Otolaryngologist at Johns Hopkins University, in the National Capital Region (Washington DC/Bethesda MD). She completed her Otolaryngology training at the University of Southern California and did her laryngology and endocrine head and neck surgery fellowships at Johns Hopkins University. She has a dual practice whereby she does in office based laryngology, radiofrequency ablation of thyroid nodules and thyroid/parathyroid surgery. Her clinical interests center around voice and swallow outcomes in patients who have undergone endocrine head and neck surgery and radiofrequency ablation of nodules, and she is particularly interested in quality of life around vocal fold paralysis and paresis. She also has an interest in chronic cough and laryngeal hypersensitivity. She is the Chair of the IT Committee of NASIT as well as involved in the Endocrine Section of the American Head and Neck Society, American Thyroid Association and the ABOTO.