

Brenda Crawley, MD

Dr. Crawley is a Laryngologist at the Loma Linda Voice and Swallowing Center. She is a board-certified Otolaryngologist and member of the Academy, the ABEA, and the post-grad ALA. She completed her fellowship training with Drs. Blitzer, Strome, and Sulica at the New York Center for Voice and Swallowing Disorders. Her interests include neurolaryngology, swallowing disorders, performing voice and the surgical airway. She has also completed training in classical vocal performance. Her recent research includes dysphonia and dysphagia in the elderly and patient experience of in-office otolaryngologic procedures.