

Kevin Peng, MD is an otolaryngologist specializing in otology and neurotology at the House Clinic and the VA Greater Los Angeles Healthcare System. He attended Caltech and UC San Diego, and completed residency and fellowship training at UCLA and the House Clinic. His clinical and research interests include hearing loss and cochlear implants, vestibular schwannomas, and chronic ear disease.